Transitional Shades™
Sundown

Because there is no horizontal slat to collect dust, caring for Allure is easy. Just feather dust or vacuum at a low setting.

Beauty Meets Privacy

Allure Sundown won't ask you to choose between beauty and privacy; it blends the two in harmony. As the sun rises and falls, you can transition your shades from light filtering to room darkening

ALLURE™

Transitional Shades™

The Allure of mystery The Allure of elegance

Allure Transitional Shades offer you the privacy of a window shade, the softened view of a sheer and the option of raising or lowering your shade with privacy control at every level.

Allure Transitional Shades give you the ability to raise and lower your shade while still controlling the amount of light. Raise or lower your shade while open, closed or position anywhere in between; your choice!

You create the open and closed effect when two fabrics pass by one another with opposing sheer and semi-opaque sections. In the closed position, Allure diffuses incoming light, casting the room with a warm glow. When the Allure vanes are overlapped, light is filtered into the room through the sheer fabric sections allowing for a cozy environment.
